

Durham Political Theory Graduate Conference 2022

Freedom, equalities, and postcolonial legacies

April 6, 2022. Durham, UK (and online).

Keynote speakers:

- Serene Khader, Jay Newman Chair in Philosophy of Culture at Brooklyn College and Professor of Philosophy and Women's and Gender Studies at the CUNY Graduate Center.
- Jeanne Morefield, Associate Professor of Political Theory and Fellow at New College, Oxford.

Call for abstracts:

Durham University's School of Government and International Affairs will hold its annual Graduate Conference on Wednesday, 6 April 2022. We welcome applications from all scholars with research interests in politics and related disciplines. We particularly encourage proposals for papers from PhD students and Early Career Researchers.

Our themes for this year's conference are 'freedom', 'equalities', and 'postcolonial legacies', and we strongly encourage proposals that explore the relationships between these themes and across academic disciplines.

The conference is currently planned to be held in-person, on the Durham University campus in Durham, UK. It will be hybrid in format, with a limited number of spaces for in-person presentations and attendance, and access to live streams and remote presentation technology. However, we will revert to online-only if that is deemed prudent due to the COVID-19 situation at the time.

Please submit paper titles and abstracts of up to 250 words via this signup form by 23:59 on Sunday, 30 January.

Limited funds have been reserved to contribute to travel costs for presenters. Please indicate on the signup form if you would like to discuss the possibility of financial support for travel costs with the event organisers.

If you have any further enquiries, please use the signup form to correspond with the conference organisers.

Organisers:

Thuli Montana
Hannah Siddle
Dr Craig Whittall