

The SPAIS Gender Research Centre \(GRC\) at the University of Bristol, UK welcomes indications of interest for a new visiting scholar scheme.

This new competitive scheme seeks visiting scholars to spend between 6-9 weeks sabbatical in SPAIS \(the School of Sociology, Politics and International Relations\) at the University of Bristol. There are attached funds for some travel and subsistence funds, although applicants will most probably need to be already on study leave from their own university, as this scheme does not cover salary replacement.

The GRC are really keen to support an application to our School from a gender scholar. Given the competitive nature, it would be useful to demonstrate how your own research expertise/interests compliment both the GRC's research interests/approaches and where appropriate speak to additional research centres and clusters in the School. Please note the deadline is very close - in the next couple of weeks.

We also have a more established scheme, which we would also like to bring to your attention: <http://www.bristol.ac.uk/ias/fellowships/meakers/>

If you are interested please do get in contact with s.childs@bristol.ac.uk ASAP